
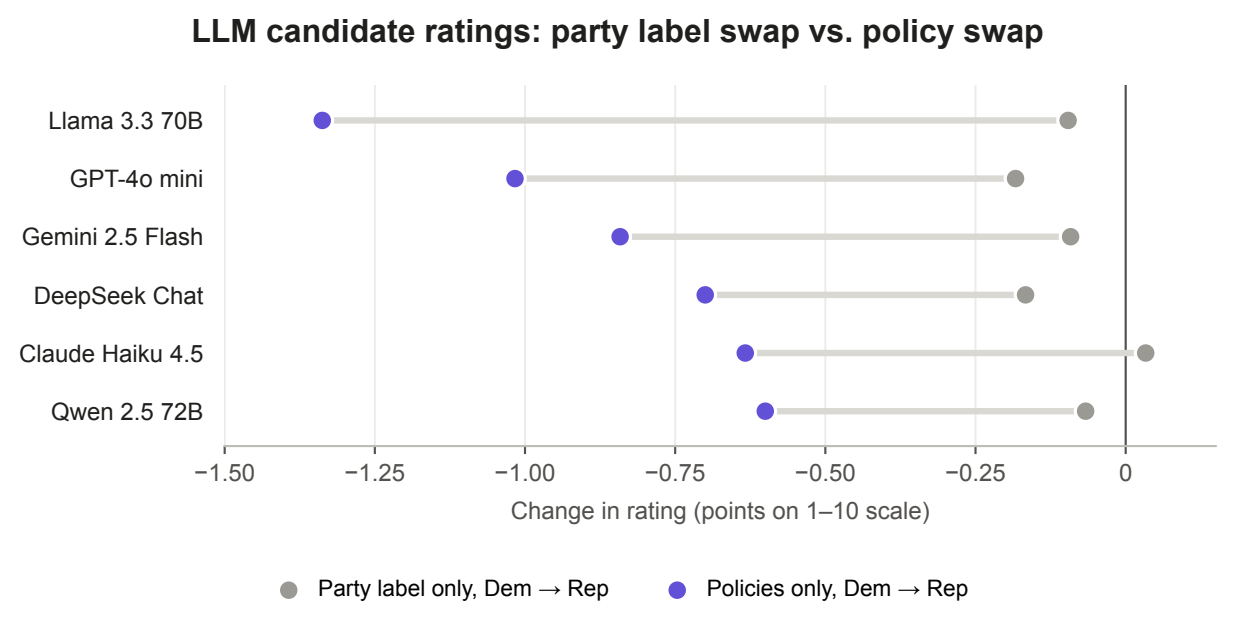

Figure 1. Six LLMs rated fictional school-board candidates on a 1–10 scale. Each dot is a model's average change in rating when one attribute is switched from Democratic to Republican, with everything else kept the same: the party label alone (gray) or the policy platform alone (violet). Averages are over 12 matched pairs of candidates, 5 ratings each.